IMPRISONMENT

The defendant is committed to the custody of the United States Bureau of Prisons to be imprisoned for a total term of 37 months.

The Court recommends that Immigration and Customs Enforcement begin removal proceedings during service of sentence.

Before any departures, Defendant Antonio Madrid-Garcias offense level is 21 and his criminal history is category VI. His advisory guidelines sentence range is 77 to 96 months. The Court departs downward from the criminal history category of VI to a criminal history category of V, resulting in a guidelines range of 70 to 87 months. The Court believes that a criminal history category of VI does not substantially overrepresent Madrid-Garcia's past criminal history, but, because of his age and poor health, does substantially overrepresent the likelihood of future criminal conduct.

In arriving at its sentence, the Court has considered the resulting advisory guidelines range established for the applicable category of offense committed by the applicable category of defendant. The Court has also considered the factors set forth in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a)(1)-(7). The Court believes that a sentence of 37 months reflects the seriousness of the offense that Madrid-Garcia has committed and will promote respect for the law, provide just punishment, and afford adequate deterrence. While the sentence varies from the suggested range under the Sentencing Guidelines, it is a more reasonable sentence and more faithfully promotes the sentencing goals Congress laid down in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a). Madrid-Garcia is 67 years-old at this time and is seriously ill. His wife is also ill. Given these factors, the Court does not believe that Madrid-Garcia is likely to recidivate upon his release from prison. Additionally, a sentence of 37 months for a person of Madrid-Garcia's health and age provides adequate deterrence and reflects the seriousness of the offense. A longer sentence would be unnecessarily punitive and would not serve any useful purpose. The sentence the Court imposes varies from the guidelines, but in these circumstances, such a sentence more effectively promotes the goals outlined in 18 U.S.C. § 3553(a).
